

To:
Cc:
Bcc:
Subject: Fw: Attention: Chair, Psychology Board of Australia

---

Dear Chair,

I am writing in response to the PBA proposal. In particular, I would like to strongly encourage the PBA to consider:

a) as an extension to the regulation of specialist titles, adopting guidelines similar to the attached guidelines to ensure, accurate, consistent and non-misleading presentation of qualifications by psychologists to protect the public, and

b) in particular, include the title "Child Psychologist" as a specialist title. The title "Child Psychologist" is a title commonly used by lay-people and holds inherent as well as actual specialist meaning. I suggest that Specialist Educational & Developmental Psychologists and Specialist Clinical Psychologists with at least a Masters degree in Ed. & Devel. Psychology be allowed to include the term "Child" in their title: For example: "Clinical Child Psychologist" or "Child & Educational Psychologist" or simply "Child Psychologist"

Thanks you for considering these proposals.

Yours faithfully,

Dr. Simon Crisp MAPS
Clinical Psychologist

---

THIS E-MAIL IS CONFIDENTIAL. If you have received this e-mail in error, please notify us by return e-mail and delete the document. If you are not the intended recipient you are hereby notified that any disclosure, copying, distribution or taking any action in reliance on the contents of this information is strictly prohibited and may be unlawful. Neo Psychology is not liable for the proper and complete transmission of the information contained in this communication nor for any delay in its receipt.

[attachment "Crisp Submission to PBA.pdf" deleted by Caroline Kettle/HeadOffice/DHS]